

IS THERE AN EPIDEMIC IN ARLINGTON??

The City of Arlington's annual litter challenge is just days away. Residents throughout the City will get together for a citywide cleanup. You may have noticed in last month's success story that some residents want to pick up the litter in their neighborhoods more often than once a year. After Valley Springs' successful venture at Cravens Park, Knottingham Estates C.O.P. put their own cleanup into action and partnered up with local students from Sam Houston High School. Nearly every football player from Sam Houston showed up sporting their jerseys to assist and claim ownership of their communities.

If this becomes a new epidemic in Arlington, I doubt there will be widespread panic. Hopefully, such unity will teach others to care more about their communities, and realize that littering is laziness, and laziness is a bad epidemic.
